An economic professor showed his class that by holding a dime in one hand close to the eye, it will obscure a half dollar held in the other hand a little beyond. He pointed out that it is never wise to let the vision be obscured by the small, nearer profit to lose sight of the great values within reach.

Carver-Price Raises $102 In Second Polio Drive

When Carver-Price High School was burglarized recently, thieves made off with $120 in March of Dimes collections. They pushed the dimes from the cardboard collectors. That left the Negro people of the county on a spot as to their contribution to the March of Dimes. But they renewed their efforts, and this week they turned the sum of $102 over to the committee.

Forest Fire Damage High

The forest fire situation is becoming extremely dangerous at this time. A combination of warm spring air and strong March winds are creating conditions highly favorable for forest fires. A day has not passed that a fire has not been reported. It has only been the prompt reporting of these smokes that has enabled the fire fighters to converge on the fires and put them out with not too many acres burned.

Ninety per cent of all the forest fires are caused by human carelessness. The more outstanding causes are: throwing matches away without breaking them in two; burning off fields on a windy day; throwing still lighted cigarettes out of a car window; building campfires on uncleared ground; burning trash too near wooded areas; and not taking proper precaution when burning brush. Remember—forest fires destroy our timber, cause a swift runoff of rain water which induces floods, kills wildlife, pollutes our streams, and is a waste of manpower required to bring a fire under control.

Remember these general rules of forest fire prevention:

1. Break every match in two and crush out your cigarette.

2. Stop to smoke in a safe place; in automobiles use the ash tray.

3. Build campfires on bare earth; drown them with water before leaving.

4. Before burning brush or fields, scrape or plow a safety line; have help on hand, don't burn in dry, windy weather; be sure the last spark is out before leaving.

5. Put out small fires and report all fires immediately to the nearest forest warden.

Evans-Nash Given Flood Control Work

The Evans and Nash Construction Company, of Appomattox, has been awarded a contract on a low bid of $24,960.68, for the construction of a flood water retarding structure, Site 15, in the East Fork Falling River Pilot Watershed, this county. The announcement was made yesterday in Richmond. Work is expected to begin in 30 days.

This is the first of three such projects to be undertaken in Appomattox County. Bids for Site 21 will be opened next month.

The Pilot Watershed protection program comprises about 34,000 acres in Appomattox and Campbell Counties. The site of the first work is about three miles northeast of the Town of Appomattox. Work on the first project will consume about three months.

Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District is sponsor of the project.

The project is designed to show what can be done with such a program as a method of flood damage reduction and soil and water conservation within a small watershed.

A dam will be so constructed that there will be a normal flow of water when the season is normal. When heavy rains come, the flow of water below the dam will be only slightly accelerated and the area back of the dam will act as storage and let through overflow pipes at a slow rate of speed.

CONSCIENCE HURTS

Salt Lake City, Utah.- A letter, unsigned, from someone in Butler, Pa., was recently received by the Utah Road Commission. The letter, enclosing a $5 bill, read: "For stolen road sign."

Seawell To Speak At FFA Banquet

William H. Seawell, Director of Instruction, Mecklenburg County Public Schools, will be the guest speaker at the Robert E. Lee Chapter Father and Son Banquet here Friday night. The annual banquet will be held in the cafeteria of the Appomattox Elementary School, at 7:00 P. M.

Ralph Reynolds, Chapter President, will serve as master of ceremonies, with Fred Caldwell, Chapter Sentinel, giving the official welcome to fathers and guests. Wesley Newcomb, Chapter Vice-President, will introduce the guests, and Frank Ingre, Chapter Treasurer, will tell some of the highlights of the F. F. A. program during the past year. Bobby Barger, Chapter Reporter, will provide entertainment. Floyd Fleshman, Jr. will introduce the guest speaker.

This banquet is an annual affair with the local chapter, in which they give recognition to and experience a fellowship with their parents, who play a large part in determining how successful their work in vocational agriculture and the F. F. A. will be.

The Appomattox Garden Club ladies are serving the banquet this year. The menu will be: fruit cocktail, ham, mashed potatoes, lima beans, celery, pickles, rolls, coffee or milk, and pie and ice cream.

Local Club To Enter National Safety Contest

Definite plans were made to enter the 1956 Traffic Safety Contest of the National Home Demonstration Council at a meeting of the Appomattox County Home Demonstration Clubs Contest Committee and their Home Agent, Mrs. Ella Anderson.

The Home Demonstration Club women feel that every traffic safety program or project designed to make us safer drivers and pedestrians is worthwhile and a real step in helping to build a safer America. Rural women will intensify their efforts toward that end.

This Traffic Safety Contest is open to all County Home Demonstration Clubs in the United States, Puerto and Hawaii. The Contest Report on all activities concerning traffic safety education sponsored by the county clubs will be in scrapbook form and this is already in the making.

First place award in this contest is $100 to the winning county, second place $75 and third place $50. The contest closes July 15, 1956, and final report is to be submitted to Health and Safety Chairman of the National Home Demonstration Council. The contest also has the sponsorship of the Automotive Safety Foundation, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. F. F. Carr, a member of the Virginia Rural Safety Council, is working very closely with the local group in this project. Mrs. R. K. Martin, Pamplin, is president of the Appomattox County Home Demonstration Clubs and Mrs. R. C. Hubbard is Federation Goal Chairman. Other members of the Contest Committee are Miss Rebecca Harvey and Mrs. L. C. McKenzie.

The program of work for the entire year is on Health and Safety, and the programs each month are set up to carry out this theme. The efforts of the Home Demonstration Clubs in the county for the next few months will be directed to Traffic Safety Education.

Richmond, Va.- The General Assembly of Virginia today neared the close of its final week with good prospects of avoiding the last-day logjam that forced some preceding regular sessions into overtime deliberations.

Governor Stanley sent bills to both houses Tuesday with recommendation for establishment of a business manager for the State Mental Hospital system under his direct supervision—the aftermath of a series of events in the hospitals which he felt gave proof of the need for drastic remedies.

These bills, together with continued cloakroom debate over the resolution by Speaker E. Blackburn Moore on school segregation, enlivened the closing days of an unusually harmonious session.

The general Appropriations Bill —which provides the money for the state government's operations for the next two years—was expected to come to the Senate floor for debate on Thursday. A Finance subcommittee completed the review of the bill on Tuesday and predictions were the measure would not be substantially different from the version unanimously approved by the House of Delegates.

The mental hospital change urged by the Governor would supplant the present business manager, functioning under the Hospital Board, with a business executive appointed by and responsible to the Governor. The bill would permit the Governor to turn the business management back to the Board at anytime he was satisfied the system was sufficiently well established to operate efficiently under the direction of the Board.

A food study at Central State Hospital, Petersburg, showing that approximately $245,000 a year was being diverted from patient food appropriation to employee food subsidies brought the business management controversy to a climax. Other contributing factors included an expensive unauthorized cattle raising venture at Southwestern State Hospital, Marion; an earlier grand jury investigation of pilfering at Central States, and over-expenditures at Lynchburg Training School (for feeble-minded and epileptics) where retrenchments involved reductions in the number of employees in recent weeks.

The Senate Rules Committee, headed by Lieutenant Governor A. E. S. Stephens, deferred action until late in the week on the Moore resolution, which would put Assembly on record for continued public school segregation in 1956-57 and against any special measures to enact recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Public Education.

Meanwhile, a State Constitutional Convention also met in the Capitol on Monday and quickly completed the work of amending Section 141 of the Constitution so that public funds can be used to pay tuition grants for students attending private non-sectarian schools. This change is one of the keystones of the program recommended by the Commission on Public Education. However, other key points, including a pupil assignment plan, were deferred for later consideration.

A great collection of uncontested bills rolled through both houses as the adjournment tempo picked up. Scores of others withered in committee, or were killed outright.

The session ends Saturday, March 10.
